DEDICATION

The Class of 1984 would like to thank Mr. Edward Sarro for all he has done: for the time, advice, and hard work he has given us in the past few years. His caring has helped us grow in many ways and discover things about our abilities. It is with much gratitude that we dedicate our 1984 Climber to him.

INTRODUCTION

"THE MEANING OF 1984"

*1984 is a year with special meaning.
It is the year George Orwell chose to immortalize with his vision of the future.
It is a year of Olympic hopes, dreams,
struggles, victories, and defeats.
It is a year in which America will select her leaders for the next four years,
and it is our graduation year.
With so many events affecting our present,
it is probable that we will someday be makers of history.
We have grown up in an ideal era: one where we preserve our past, live our present, and work for our future.
Let us give better than our best
And create — for ourselves — immortality.*

SUPERINTENDENT

To the Members of the Class of 1984,

Graduation marks the end of a significant phase in your lives. As individuals and as a class, you have left your mark on West Bridgewater Junior-Senior High School. Each class is unique, and yours is no different. There have been many accomplishments during the past four years; academic, athletic, extra-curricula, and personal, for which you can be proud.

I'm sure there have been low and high spots during your time at West Bridgewater. Hopefully, as you look back, the high spots will outnumber the low. It is our hope that the education you have earned while a student at the High School will enable you to be productive members of society and has provided you with some of the skills to adapt to an ever-changing world.

Although the next phase of your lives may not be as simple, you now are presented with an opportunity for greater satisfaction and success as you strike out more or less on your own. Certainly people will be there to support and assist you when the need arises, but you now have the opportunity to make the choices and perform the work on your own.

We hope you will use the gifts each of you has to make a better life for yourselves and for your community.

STRATION

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE CLASS OF 1984

Mr. S. Erick Benson Principal

Your developmental process continues. You have demonstrated social growth and academic achievement that entitles you to a high school diploma. Many of you have elected to participate in a variety of formal, social and academic programs, gaining considerable personal gratification as well as providing a service to your peers and adults. Some of you have chosen the route of non-formal relationships and involvement with equal success and fulfillment. You have acquired credentials relating to knowledge, skills and values. How you employ these will help determine your future. The importance of your acquired personal attributes will be tested and measured as you enter post secondary education or a chosen occupation. The acceleration of conflicts and issues that are national and global in nature, render indispensable the need for a renewed commitment and dedication to formal educational programs. A commitment and dedication on your part to the successful adjudication of these issues and conflicts are necessary if posterity is to enjoy the same privileges you possess. As you graduate from West Bridgewater Jr. Sr. High School, I express to each of you a most sincere thank you for your contributions and congratulations for your achievement. May success and happiness be yours to know.

Sincerely,

S. Erick Benson
Principal

Dear Members of The Class of 1984

Though I have found Alfred Lord Tennyson's politics to be lacking, his poem Ulysses is still one of my very favorites. There are immutable facts found throughout this work, yet two of the most significant are:

"I am a part of all that I have met"
and

"Come, my friends, 'tis not too late to seek a newer world"

Taken either separately or together, these statements mark where you have been or where you should go.

Indeed, you are a part of all you have met here at West Bridgewater High School, and they a part of you. You have gained from your acquaintances and experiences, and these gains are impossible to lose. You have been in pressure situations and found out how to deal with them. You have learned that even the strongest person can cry and even the weakest can show great courage. You may forget people, but you will never forget the lessons they have taught.

And it is these lessons which will allow you to seek the newer world. A world where hatred is minimized and true brotherhood is stressed; a world in which people work to exceed their potential; a world in which individuality is cherished; a world of hope.

My desire is that you will be all that you can be and more. My best wishes.

The value of life lies not in the length of days, but in the use we make of them; a man may live long, yet get little from life. Whether you find satisfaction in life depends not on your tale of years, but on your will.
